CAMP OVERVIEW: In this course on jazz style and improvisation, participants will learn how to improvise using scales and modes. Rhythm section participants (piano, guitar, bass and drums) will learn how to accompany soloists and to perform their own solos. Jazz styles will be learned through playing and listening. Students will also learn the basics of jazz performance, including how to get one's own jazz combo started. Each session features visits by renowned area jazz artists, who will perform with and offer advice to students. This is a fun, engaging week of practical advice, intense practice, and great music!

Requirements: Participants should be able to read music and have at least basic experience playing in jazz style. Drummers should have experience playing basic music styles (swing, rock, etc.) on a drum set.

FUNDED IN PART BY A GRANT FROM READING MUSICAL FOUNDATION
